

Even though I don't benefit from these services on a daily basis, I do travel into the areas covered by Instant Weather and Traffic reports. This service is invaluable to travelers that drive into areas in which they are unfamiliar with the local radio stations for this information.